Why asking the question is important: understanding your origin and what this means to you, helps us care for you better; to provide you with health care suited to your needs; we can provide you with more specific information about your health and additional health care options; to provide the opportunity to link you with an Aboriginal Health Worker or access to specific Medicare services such as health checks and immunisations; to enable the planning and delivery of appropriate health services for all Australians; and to monitor trends and changes in the health and wellbeing of Australians over time.
